

We are always looking for unconventional thinkers, who like to implement their expertise hands-on at international clients.

Support and consult together with us Global Player regarding exciting topics like Instant Payments, Blockchain and Cryptography. Innovative solutions, highly qualified experts and complex software have been distinguishing us with our customers for more than 20 years. Become part of our team today!

For our consulting team we are looking for a

BUSINESS ANALYST (m/f/d)

YOUR TASKS

- Management of consulting projects relating to payment, SWIFT and information management
- consulting services for our customers for the integration and development of complex solutions and applications
- creation of feasibility studies and concepts
- specification of business requirements for project-related software development and monitoring of quality measures
- evaluation of complex process and application landscapes as well as comprehensive information
- act as an intermediary

YOUR PROFILE

- successfully completed studies, preferably in business informatics, computer science, industrial engineering, mathematics, physics or business administration with focus on business informatics
- careful and well-structured working method
- knowledge of software quality management, configuration as well as testing of application software
- knowledge of the financial industry area
- ability to work under pressure, flexibility, willingness to travel in Germany and abroad
- fluently spoken and written English

OUR OFFER

- interesting national and international projects
- strong capacity to act and good development opportunities
- collegial and highly-professional team
- flat hierarchies and short communication paths

An internationally oriented field of activity, international customers as well as an attractive salary package are waiting for you. If you want to contribute to the success of our company in a friendly team, please send your application documents indicating your salary expectations and your earliest possible entry date via e-mail to Mrs. Astrid Bumberger, career@be-stf.de.