

We are always looking for unconventional thinkers, who like to implement their expertise hands-on at international clients.

Support and consult together with us Global Player regarding exciting topics like Instant Payments, Blockchain and Cryptography. Innovative solutions, highly qualified experts and complex software have been distinguishing us with our customers for more than 20 years. Become part of our team today!

For our consulting team we are looking for a

TRAINEE/STUDENT TRAINEE CONSULTING (m/f/d)

YOUR TASKS

- assistance in the management of consulting projects relating to payment, SWIFT and information management
- part of the project management office (PMO)
- support for customer consulting services for the integration and development of complex solutions and applications together with an expert
- assistance in the creation of feasibility studies and concepts
- assistance in the evaluation of complex process and application landscapes as well as comprehensive information

YOUR PROFILE

- studies in business informatics, mathematics, physics or business administration with focus on business informatics
- thorough and well-structured working method
- knowledge of software quality management, configuration as well as testing of application software
- interested in financial industry issues
- strong customer orientation, good communication skills and creative in finding solutions
- high level of initiative and ability to work independently
- fluently spoken and written English

OUR OFFER

- cooperation in customer projects from the beginning
- challenging tasks with a high level of practical relevance
- flexible working hours
- collegial and highly-professional team
- flat hierarchies and short communication paths

An internationally oriented field of activity, international customers as well as an attractive salary package are waiting for you. If you want to contribute to the success of our company in a friendly team, please send your application documents indicating your salary expectations and your earliest possible entry date via e-mail to Mrs. Astrid Bumberger, career@be-stf.de.